

QUEEN'S OWN.

Her Majesty the Queen entertained Captain W. F. O'Connor, the officers and members of the above corps at the basement of Iolani Palace last evening. The command were marched from their armory accompanied by the drums and bugles of the corps to the Palace, where they were received by Colonel C. H. Judd, His Majesty's Chamberlain. The arrival of Her Majesty the Queen, accompanied by Col. Judd and the ladies in waiting, was announced by Captain O'Connor, the command saluting by standing at attention. Captain O'Connor, in a few appropriate remarks, thanked Her Majesty for the honor conferred on himself and command. The health of the King and Queen was proposed by Captain O'Connor, which was drunk heartily. The Queen expressed herself much pleased at meeting Captain O'Connor and the Queen's Own that evening. She was also pleased to hear from the commanding officer such a good account of his command. Three cheers were given for their Majesties the King and Queen, after which Her Majesty retired. The corps formed in line at open order in front of the Palace, gave the royal salute by presenting arms, and then Captain O'Connor marched his command back to their armory, much pleased with the evening's entertainment.—[Nov. 20th.]

DRIFTED TO SEA.

Last night Mr. Brooks, chief steward of the steamer Likeli, wishing to board the vessel then lying in the stream, procured one of the steamer Mokoli's surf boats, and proceeded to scull out. He managed to propel the boat into mid-stream, when he saw he could not reach the steamer and shouted, "I can't make the boat." The sailors on board the Likeli heard him but did not recognize his voice at the time. The wind was blowing stiffly last night, and as Mr. Brooks has not been heard from it is feared that he was blown to sea. The steamer Mokoli was despatched to sea at 10 o'clock this morning in search of Mr. Brooks. At four o'clock this afternoon the steamer returned, having picked up Mr. Brooks in the boat, six miles southwest of Barber's Point.—[Nov. 17th.]

DEATH OF A UNION SOLDIER.

An American citizen named John W. Ramey, who had served his country in an Ohio regiment during the rebellion, died of consumption, at his residence on Richards street, on Monday the 9th inst., and was buried the following day. He had lived in Honolulu for some time, and has left a son and daughter in the United States. Although he was not a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and hence not entitled to burial by that organization, yet the Geo. W. DeLong Post, of this city, out of respect and sympathy for a fellow-soldier dying in a strange land, took charge of the funeral and escorted the remains to the Nuanu cemetery. An advertisement of the American Consul-General, respecting the pecuniary affairs of the deceased, appears in this paper.

SAILING OF THE MORNING STAR.

The missionary vessel Morning Star departed for the South Sea Islands at 10 o'clock this morning, to resume her religious mission among the untutored people of the southern waters. This not being the annual trip, the missionary gathering was not large. Rev. A. O. Forbes conducted a brief devotional meeting, and shortly before 10 o'clock hymns in native were sung by the scholars of the Pacific Institute, followed by a prayer in native by Rev. Lowell Smith, and one in English by Rev. Dr. Hyde. At the hour of sailing the assembled friends took leave of the departing ones, wishing them a pleasant voyage and a safe return. The Morning Star then steamed out to sea to be gone about four months.—[Nov. 19th.]

MAUI.

The Government Survey has just completed a very fine new map of the Island of Maui. The map measures 4 1/2 by 3 1/2 feet, and is constructed on the Polyconic projection. The scale is 5,000 feet to the inch. Meridians and parallels are laid off at five minute distances, each minute of latitude and longitude being distinctly sealed on the borders. The middle latitude of the island is 20 deg., 45 min. N., and the mid-longitude 156 deg., 20 min. W. The extreme points are shown very distinctly: Kaula, in lon. 155 deg., 59 min. W.; Kekaa, lon. 156 deg., 42 min. W.; the lava flow of Kanaio in lat. 20 deg., 34 min. and Honokahau in lat. 21 deg., 2 min. The primary triangulation surveys were made by Prof. W. D. Alexander and Mr. S. E. Bishop. The boundaries and topography were taken by Prof. Alexander, C. J. Lyons, M. D. Monsarrat, F. S. Dodge, S. E. Bishop, E. D. Baldwin and W. R. Lawrence. The natural as well as the civil divisions of the island are very clearly indicated. The drawing is the work of Mr. F. S. Dodge, and is executed in first-class style throughout. It will be forwarded to the engraver by next steamer; and it is hoped that it will be ready for publication early next year.

LOCAL DIARY.

SATURDAY, NOV. 14th.

High wind and heavy rain made wild weather last night.

Mr. Engelhardt's store on Fort street is resplendent with glittering chandeliers and gorgeous lamps.

The preliminary prospectus of the Great Land Colonization Scheme, with a map of Oahu, has been issued in a neat pamphlet from the Gazette office.

Mr. J. A. Dower has received intimation that his application to Washington, for a patent for his device for bending boat knees and timbers, has been as good as granted. He has also reason to believe that permission will be given for amending specifications of the invention.

A BRIGADE from the water department to-day spoiled Merchant street, at a point below Fort street, by digging a ditch across it to get at the water pipes. The Road Supervisor is disgusted to see the thoroughfare so ruthlessly spoiled, which only a few days ago he had built so well and polished off with the steam roller.

The Mariposa left for San Francisco at noon sharp, with small passenger and freight lists. Without music and with unusually few spectators, the departure wore a somewhat gloomy aspect. A lot of 4,600 tins of confiscated opium was shipped to the Coast. The mails contained 5,466 letters and 1,510 papers.

It is hoped, however, that he will be well in a few days.

The hen roost robbing mania that seems to have lately taken possession of the evildoers of the town, shows no symptoms of abatement. A dozen chickens were stolen from the premises of Mr. West, of West, Dow & Co., at Waikiki last night. This is the second time that Mr. West has been the victim of the attention of the sneak thieves. Twenty fowls were got away with a few months ago from his place.

LATELY the blacksmith shop of the Honolulu Iron Works turned out, under the superintendence of Mr. Wilson, the foreman, about the largest shaft ever forged in this city. It was 10 1/2 inches in diameter, and belonged to a sugar mill.

Andrews, of Makawao, Island of Maui, was adjudged a bankrupt. Hon. W. C. Parke received his discharge as assignee in the bankrupt estate of Sing Lung Kee Co., of Kahului, Maui. Mr. A. J. Cartwright presented his final accounts as administrator of the estate of Hugh McDonna, deceased. Assets are $4,795; payments, $4,077.87; balance, $718.13.

THERE was a serious disturbance at the "blue gate," painted yellow, on Merchant street, at noon to-day. What it was about and what it amounted to can only be judged by the street scene following. The notorious negro James Williams came out with his head badly cut from the smashing of a bottle over it by a "white man from Maui," as he was described by a bystander. The negro's assailant emerged covered with blood from the other's wounds, the negro having had him down on the floor in the course of the row. There were loud cries of "haul in" from the inmates and neighbors, but no police to respond. Consequently the principals in the fracas escaped.

CAPT. Benson, of the bark Martha Davis, is not accompanied by his wife and daughter this trip. It may be of interest to their many friends here to know that Mrs. Benson and her daughter were enjoying good health when the Martha Davis left Boston, and that the little girl is now attending school.

THE Central Park Skating Rink is closed for the want of patronage. Mr. Smith, the proprietor, was offered $4,000 for the rink and roller coaster several months ago, but he refused to sell. Later on $2,500 was offered, but Mr. Smith then wanted $3,000, and just before leaving for Hilo the whole concern was offered to Road Supervisor Hart for $2,000, but no sale could be made.

THE Knickerbocker crew think they can beat the Eclipse boys in a long course, and intend to challenge them for a race round the spar buoy. On their part, the winners of the regatta two-oared race believe they can treat the Knicks to an annual eclipse—that is, row all round them—in a course much longer than that of the late regatta.

WITH the Planters' Monthly for November was folded a copy of the preliminary prospectus of the Oahu Colonization Company. Besides a large variety of matter pertaining to sugar growing and manufacturing, this number contains a suggestive article on the political situation as viewed from the planters' standpoint. It is shown that out of twenty-eight Government candidates for the Legislature, no less than twenty-six are Government office-holders, "whose living and whose retention in office depends absolutely upon their unqualified support of the Administration."

THE captain of the schooner Kauikaouli, that arrived yesterday, reports very rough weather at Kohala, Hawaii. The rain came down in torrents and the wind and sea were fearful. The Kohala scow and some freight for that place were brought to Honolulu, the captain being unable to land them at Kohala. When the Kauikaouli was coming in the passage yesterday she ran into and broke to pieces two canoes.
